

The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) has updated our Citizen Contribution Policy. In an effort to better communicate changes to the National Archives Catalog and to provide timely updates on new content and functionality, we are also launching a newsletter (see the first issue below).

If you do not wish to receive additional updates from NARA about the Catalog, please unsubscribe. If you were forwarded this email and would like to receive upcoming newsletters, please subscribe here.

Join our tagging challenge

Our Citizen Archivist program works to improve access to millions of records of the U.S. Government. By tagging and transcribing digitized records, you can help make historical documents easier to find and use.

New to tagging? Find out how to get started.

Ready to start tagging? Check out our new football tagging mission where you can help make historical records more useful by identifying football games, players, coaches, and fans (including military, civilian, and Presidential fans!).

Football isn't your thing? We are also currently running tagging missions related to snow, maps, World War II posters, and more. Check out the Citizen Archivist Dashboard for more ways to get involved.
